

ENJOY A FUN-FILLED WEEKEND IN TORONTO AND BE A PART OF HOCKEY HISTORY

TORONTO (October 20, 2009) – Plan a weekend drive to Toronto and celebrate the Hockey Hall of Fame's 2009 Induction Ceremony from November 6 – 9 with friends, family and hockey fans. Be a part of hockey history as legendary former Detroit Red Wings Brett Hull, Luc Robitaille and Steve Yzerman as well as Brian Leetch and Lou Lamoriello are honoured and inducted into the celebrated Toronto museum and hall of fame. To reserve weekend hotel packages starting from $99 per night visit www.SeeTorontoNow.com.

Be a part of the excitement in Toronto and visit the Hall of Fame for Induction Weekend activities including Meet the Detroit Red Wings free team autograph signing, Hockey Hall of Fame Game at the Air Canada Centre between Detroit Red Wings and Toronto Maple Leafs, Legends Classic hockey game between Canadian and World hockey legends and the Induction Ceremony Gala 2009. For tickets visit www.legendsofhockey.net.

Also on at the Hockey Hall of Fame will be the North American exclusive, limited-time Olympic Medals Collection showcasing 137 medals from 46 Olympic Games dating back to 1896. The exhibit will be on showcase until January 15, 2010 and marks the first time a complete collection of medals will ever appear outside of Europe.

Fans without tickets to the legendary Induction weekend hockey games can still catch the action with the Detroit Red Wings crowd at one of the city's top sports restaurant and bars:

- Wayne Gretzky's Restaurant. This upscale sports bar and restaurant doubles as a museum-like tribute to number 99, Canada's living hockey legend.
