We’ve been expecting you!

W e’re proud to present the 2014 edition of the Toronto Visitor Guide, featuring inspiration from across our great region and all the practical information you’ll need to craft your own unique adventure.

You’ll find a cosmopolitan city with a style that is authentically Toronto and distinctly Canadian. Walk the streets by day and by night. Savour the sights, sounds and diverse tastes of every café, restaurant, market and festival. Throughout the seasons, our streets are alive with entertainment and the excitement of major league sporting events, premier shopping and renowned hotels.

An intimate yet vibrant downtown core is also the gateway to unique neighbourhood experiences found around every corner. Beyond the downtown core, endless opportunities await you in Brampton and Mississauga. These centres boast some of the finest golf courses, parks, trails, racetracks and shopping centres for you to explore.

Venture past the Greater Toronto Area to see the breathtaking wilderness of Ontario’s famed cottage country or head around Lake Ontario to the Niagara region, for some of the world’s finest wineries. You’ll quickly discover why Ontario is not just a place to see, but a place to experience.

Visit SeeTorontoNow.com to get up-to-the-minute event listings.

More than 315,000 dedicated individuals are working in tourism and hospitality across the Toronto region and we’re all here to welcome you and make your visit one you’ll remember for a long time.

On behalf of all of us, welcome to Toronto!

1. New Fort York Visitor Centre [opening 2014]
   The juxtapositions of old and new are artfully defined at Fort York National Historic Site in Toronto, with the addition of the new Visitor Centre in 2014. Commemorate and celebrate the site of the Battle of York during the War of 1812, where Canadian militia and First Nations fought side by side with British troops against the invading Americans. Stop by the stunning modern complex to find out more about tours, musket drills and music demonstrations—and stay for the interactive exhibitions and the Battle of York immersive experience.

2. Walk to Billy Bishop Airport!
   Visitors and locals alike rave about the Billy Bishop Toronto City Airport for its breathtaking landing views of the Toronto skyline and port, and for its ultra-convenient location in downtown Toronto. But soon you’ll be able to walk to the airport in minutes, with a new tunnel that connects the island airport to downtown. Travellers will now be able to stroll from city street to runway in about six minutes on moving sidewalks, commuting under Lake Ontario! Construction is set to be complete in summer 2014.

3. Mirvish Productions’ 50th anniversary lineup
   Mirvish Productions is celebrating its 50th anniversary with a blockbuster lineup, boasting the “biggest ever” season of shows. Hits include the Book of Mormon, starting September 16, Disney’s The Lion King from April to June, Green Day’s American Idiot, The Beatles tribute Rain in March, and Chicago, featuring Olympic figure skater Elvis Stojko’s debut performance.

4. Treetop Trekking in Brampton
   Zip, balance and swing through Ontario’s leafy, lofty treetops: Treetop Trekking in Brampton is just a short drive from Toronto. Adults and children nine years old and up can participate in aerial game courses, zipline and Tarzan swing adventures—just watch out for that tree! Night treks are also offered for those seeking adrenaline-inducing escapades.

5. Toronto Zoo celebrates 40 years!
   Take part in the Zoo’s 40th anniversary, celebrating four decades of bringing the wild to the city. Open all year round, the Zoo kicks off its celebration in the new year with many special events, including the reopening of the Eurasia Wilds in May and the introduction of the Soaring Eagles Zip-line running through the Tundra Trek. And who can resist Da Mao and Er Shun, the two new giant pandas—who are so pandorable!

6. Aga Khan Museum and Ismaili Centre
   Toronto is known for its myriad of cultural institutions and people, and the Aga Khan Museum, opening this year, contributes to the city’s artistic breadth. Dedicated to the acquisition, preservation and display of artifacts from Islamic communities worldwide, the museum will display 200 pieces of its more than 1,000-item collection and will also offer an educational program. Visit for the glass, rock crystal, textile, ivory, ceramics and parchments, or for the peaceful, reflective courtyard; you’ll be surprised, delighted and inspired.

Royal Ontario Museum celebrates its 100th, with you!

This year is the Royal Ontario Museum's 100th anniversary, and in the spirit of connecting people to their world and each other, the Museum's program is packed with social and interactive exhibitions and events. Events include black-tie galas, hipster Friday Night Live, and cake and ice cream for all. And from March 8 through to September 1, 2014, The Forbidden City: Inside the Court of China’s Emperors offers an exclusive look into the Ming and Qing dynasties, with artifacts and perspectives of this society that has held us captive for centuries. After your visit, be sure to participate in ROM ReCollects: help document the history of the Museum by logging into their website and submitting memories, photos and spoken words. rom.on.ca

Art Gallery of Ontario: Modern masterpieces

Two striking exhibitions are featured this year at the Art Gallery of Ontario. The Great Upheaval: Modern Masterpieces from the Guggenheim Collection features modern art from Europe, with notable experimental paintings by Cézanne, Duchamp, Matisse and Picasso, among others, until March 2, 2014. Then, bringing paintings and sculptures from two influential British artists, Francis Bacon and Henry Moore, the next exhibit pairs the artists' personal (and horrific) experiences from the Second World War to offer new, and often hopeful, perspectives on the postwar era, open from April 5 to July 6, 2014. ago.net

Ontario Science Centre: Science spotlight

There’s always something surprising at the Ontario Science Centre: make yourself heard at the Amateur Radio Station, gaze at the stars in the planetarium, explore The AstraZeneca Human Edge exhibition hall to test the limits of your body and mind at the Wall of Pain, or find out what the future could look like at the 21st Century Bionic Person exhibit. ontariosciencecentre.ca

The Design Exchange: This is not a toy

Guest curated by superstar Pharrell Williams, This Is Not A Toy is the world’s first-ever large-scale exhibition on urban vinyl as contemporary art (or more simply put, art toys for all ages). Highlighting the intersection between commercial culture, marketing, graffiti art and contemporary art, the Kickstarter-funded exhibit features bigger than life-sized and child-sized vinyl toys by international artists KAW and Takashi Murakami, among others. 7. Ripley's Aquarium of Canada: Making waves

Thousands of highly anticipated guests have arrived in Toronto—in over five million litres of water—and are making a splash! Take an exhilarating walk through the Dangerous Lagoon, an underwater viewing tunnel, and see all sides of the sand tiger, sandbar and reef sharks. Watch an octopus vanish before your eyes, a diver feeding the colourful fish in the Rainbow Reef, and touch—yes, touch!—the silky smooth skin of an Atlantic stingray. Cultural capital

Get your culture fix at these top venues and attractions.

Museums and galleries

The Royal Ontario Museum is an architectural spectacle famous for its bat cave, dinosaurs, and antiquities from ancient Egypt and Asia. Its neighbour, the Gardiner Museum, showcases world-renowned ceramic arts. A short walk away, the Bata Shoe Museum displays footwear artifacts, including the late Princess of Wales’ shoes.

The Art Gallery of Ontario attracts crowds with its special exhibitions and stellar collection of Canadian art, not to mention its massive expansion designed by Toronto-born architect Frank Gehry.

Theatre

With a blockbuster 50th anniversary lineup, Mirvish Productions brings the best of Broadway to landmark theatres. Theatre companies such as Soulpepper and Canadian Stage add to the scene, alongside productions from around the world at the Sony Centre for the Performing Arts.

Film and photography

TIFF Bell Lightbox is the year-round HQ of the Toronto International Film Festival. The Lightbox offers a multi-screen cinema, plus galleries, feature exhibitions and restaurants. It hosts many smaller annual film festivals (Toronto has more than 75 in total), including the TIFF Kids International Film Festival (April 8 to 20, 2014).

Each May, the Scotiabank CONTACT Photography Festival brings photography to life for 31 days. The largest festival of its kind in the world, it features 15,000 artists at galleries throughout the entire city.

Explore the art and history of photography and photojournalism all year round at the new Ryerson Image Centre.

Dance

The National Ballet of Canada performs at the magnificent Four Seasons Centre for the Performing Arts, highly praised for its superb acoustics and edgy architecture.

A taste of Toronto

Try the city’s top local flavours and edible souvenirs.

1. Chow down on the classic peameal bacon sandwich. St. Lawrence Market’s Carousel Bakery is the city’s best-known purveyor.

2. Load up on Ontario maple syrup, available practically everywhere. For an upscale gift, splurge on Ninikt’s Cube 57, an arty maple sugar cube presented in a handcrafted maple box.

3. Try birch syrup, maple’s more complex sister, with semi-sweet nuances of honey, caramel and licorice, plus balsamic spice. Intrigued? Forbes Wild Foods offers this and other traditional preserves.

4. Enjoy Ontario’s late-spring fiddlehead harvest. Freshly harvested fiddleheads usually hit restaurant menus and farmers’ markets in June.

5. With 30 award-winning varieties, Kozlik’s artisan mustards pass muster with discerning sandwich lovers (salad dressing mixologists, marinade crafters, etc.).

6. Carb-load on Canada’s original quick flat bread, bannock, at—where else?—Bannock, on the ground floor of the Hudson’s Bay flagship store at Queen Street West and Bay Street.

7. Ontario is known for deliciously ooey-gooey butter tarts. You can find them throughout town, but try local faves Mabel’s Bakery, Harbord Bakery and Bonjour Brioche for starters.

8. Wow your taste buds with world-famous Niagara icewine. Pick it up at LCBO stores, or make a day trip to Niagara for a winery tour.

9. Get hooked on Lake Erie pickerel. Enjoy this flavourful whitefish from Ontario’s Great Lakes on many menus.

10. Canucks love Tim Hortons coffee. If you’re an international visitor, be sure to order yours like a local: “double-double” (two creams, two sugars).
Culinary bites
5 tasty ways to savour the city.

1. Book a table at a celebrity-chef eatery. ↑
   Toronto offers an all-star lineup of culinary talent, including Lynn Crawford (Ruby Watchco), Susur Lee (Lee), Marc McEwan (One) and Jamie Kennedy (Gilead), plus noted international chefs like Daniel Boulud (Café Boulud) and David Chang (Momofuku).

2. Sample our global fare.
   Toronto’s cultural diversity makes it possible to eat your way around the world via our ethnic neighbourhoods. Devour authentic butter chicken in Little India or grilled souvlaki and saganaki in GreekTown. Brunch on dim sum during a visit to one of several Chinatowns. Fill up on pasta in Toronto’s own Little Italy and Corso Italia.

3. Eat and shop at an historic market.
   Visit St. Lawrence Market, one of North America’s top-rated markets. From a Portuguese churrasco BBQ chicken sandwich to a hot-from-the-oven bagel and farm-fresh Ontario produce, it’s the perfect eat-and-browse venue.

4. Raise a cheer to Ontario wine and beer.
   Take a tasting flight at one of many terrific wine bars (well stocked with offerings from Ontario and around the world) or a brewery tour, followed by a refreshing pint at such local microbreweries as Steam Whistle Brewing, Mill Street Brewery and Amsterdam Brewery.

5. Check out a farmers’ market. →
   Venture to the farmers’ markets at the Evergreen Brick Works, Mississauga’s Square One and downtown Brampton. No matter where you go, you’ll see the best of the season ready for your sampling, as well as food trucks offering market-fresh meals hot and ready to enjoy.
Top shopping
Where to find the best retail therapy.

Shopping in Toronto ranges from tiny indie boutiques and luxe designer showrooms to extensive mega-malls peppered with all of retail’s heavy hitters. Here’s what to find and where.

Malls
Great shopping complexes dot every part of the city, with the popular Toronto Eaton Centre downtown and the ever-expanding Yorkdale and Vaughan Mills (with outlets galore) in the north, as well as Brampton’s Bramalea City Centre and Mississauga’s Square One and Sherway Gardens in the west. Farther west is the new Toronto Premium Outlets, boasting over 85 brand-name stores in Halton Hills. Head east to the alfresco Shops at Don Mills.

Central districts
Toronto street shopping offers a lively retail landscape, with great cafés and restaurants where you can recharge before Round Two of any spending marathon. Lovers of luxury should make a beeline to Yorkville and Bloor Street (Toronto’s Mink Mile) for all of the biggest designer names, from Chanel and Tiffany & Co. to Holt Renfrew, Canada’s own upscale department store, plus the flagship Roots store.

Kensington Market is home to the coolest antique, vintage and retro clothing, as well as affordable independent designers. The neighbourhood’s bohemian vibe and multicultural eateries make for a unique shopping/cultural excursion.

Gentlemen, take note: The Queen West strip delivers a diverse array of boutiques dedicated to male style. Start at Bathurst Street and head west, stopping to peruse the cool casual wear at Ben Sherman and European labels like M.A+ and Jil Sander, at Sydney’s. Head south and visit GOTSTYLE’s Wellington Street West or The Distillery Historic District location for custom menswear, including suits, tuxedos and wedding attire.

Antiques & home décor
If you love the thrill of the hunt, head east from downtown to Leslieville and The Beaches for phenomenal vintage shopping, from retro chandeliers to funky mid-century modern accessories. Or visit the western fringe of the Queen Street West shopping district—the stretch just east of Roncesvalles Avenue offers myriad mid-century and older finds.

Outside the central core, Mississauga’s Streetsville and Port Credit and Brampton’s Main Street are worth the trip for their eclectic assortment of one-of-a-kind boutiques.

Staying near Toronto Pearson International Airport? By Chaya Klar

Whether you’re seeking distraction during a layover or are exploring around your hotel, there’s a lot to discover near Toronto’s major airport.

Win big…
… trying your luck at OLG Slots (olg.ca) at Woodbine Racetrack—one of North America’s premier horse racing tracks—open year-round. With 3,000 slot machines, electronic table games and three exciting restaurants, including the walk-up Noodle Bar, odds are good you’ll have a great time!

Be amazed…
… by our country’s exciting thoroughbred and standardbred racing history. The Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame (canadianhorseracinghalloffame.com) at Woodbine Racetrack honours heroes of the sport, both two- and four-legged.

Enjoy the midway…
… at Fantasy Fair (fantasyfair.ca), Ontario’s largest indoor amusement park. With arcade games and nine full-sized family rides, it’s a sure bet for families. Best part: its location inside Woodbine Shopping Centre means you can shop, too!

Catch a public show…
… trade fair or deep-discount designer clearance sale at the International Centre (internationalcentre.com) or Toronto Congress Centre (torontocongresscentre.com).

→ Chow down…
… at one of Pearson’s exciting new restaurants. Toronto chefs’ cool multicultural fare and artisan burgers are on the menu if you know where to look. Restaurant Makeover chef Massimo Capra’s Boccone Trattoria Veloce offers casual Italian, as does chef Rocco Agostino at Corso. Build your own burger, or try one created by chef Mark McEwan at Nobel Burger Bar. Or enjoy authentic Indian street fare at Marathi, with its unique menu designed by Toronto chef Hemant Bhagwani. Acer serves contemporary Japanese cuisine by chef Guy Rubino. Toronto favourite Zane Caplansky brings traditional Jewish deli offerings at Caplansky’s Deli and Caplansky’s Snack Bar. Departures. See torontopearson.com for a comprehensive list of new restaurants.

Work up a sweat…
… at the 10,000-square-foot GoodLife Fitness gym on the arrivals level of Terminal 1 at Pearson. A nominal fee nets you state-of-the-art equipment—plus showers and towel service. There’s also Reebok rental gear for those who packed light.

Go shopping…
… at Square One (shopsquareone.com), one of the province’s biggest malls. From designer labels to local shops, a movie multiplex and a food court, you’ll find plenty to scope out here.

Zone out…
… during a decadent massage, facial or body treatment at Zen Spa (zenspa.ca). Seaweed detox body wrap, anyone?

Get outside!
Work up a sweat while enjoying the city’s top active adventures.
By Baron Lee

1. Play a game of golf. Try one of these centrally located 18-hole courses: Don Valley Golf Course, Humber Valley Golf Course, Scarlett Woods Golf Course or the Tam O’Shanter Golf Course (toronto.ca/parks/golf). Or, for more challenge, head to a premium course like The Club at Bond Head (bondhead.clublink.ca), Glen Abbey Golf Club (glenabbey.clublink.ca), Lionhead Golf & Country Club (golflionhead.com) or Wooden Sticks Golf Club (woodensticks.com).

2. Stand-up paddleboard (SUP) at Cherry Beach. Rentals and lessons are available through Surf Ontario (surf Ontario.ca).

3. Rent a canoe or kayak and paddle around the Toronto Islands. You can find the boat rental facility near the Centre Island shrubbery maze.

4. Run the scenic boardwalk in the east-end Beaches neighbourhood (thetorontobeaches.com).

5. Saddle up and ride horseback in Brampton’s Chinguacousy Park (brampton.ca).

6. Cast a line for trout or salmon in the west-end’s Credit River (craa.on.ca).

7. Cycle along the waterfront’s Martin Goodman Trail (waterfronttoronto.ca).

8. Take in the lush, natural surroundings while hiking west-end High Park (highparktoronto.com) or east-end Rouge National Park (rougepark.com).

9. Slather on your sunscreen and swim at the Blue Flag-certified Woodbine Beach (toronto.ca).

10. Take a guided walking tour of a savoury Toronto neighbourhood. See what’s on the menu at The Culinary Adventure Company (culinaryadventureco.com) or Foodies on Foot (foodiesonfoot.ca).
Winter fun!
15 ways to heat up your visit.
By Kat Tancock

1. Pack your red nose and welcome Saint Nick at the 110th annual edition of The Santa Claus Parade (thesantaclausparade.ca), whose route weaves through several downtown neighbourhoods every November.

2. Embrace your inner Joannie Rochette with a tour around an outdoor skating rink. Three that offer both rentals and lockers are Nathan Phillips Square (toronto.ca), the Natrel Rink at Harbourfront Centre (harbourfrontcentre.com), and Celebration Square in Mississauga (mississauga.ca).

3. Shop the European-style Lowe’s Toronto Christmas Market (torontochristmasmarket.com) in The Distillery Historic District, where carollers, choirs and mulled wine enhance the “winterrific” vibe.

4. Brush up on your hockey hero trivia, practise your slap shot or test your play-by-play skills behind the mic with a visit to the Hockey Hall of Fame (hhof.com).

5. Take in The National Ballet of Canada’s (national.ballet.ca) mesmerizing and perennially popular interpretation of the classic Christmas tale The Nutcracker. Arrive early to enjoy a pre-show glass of Ontario bubbly in the stylish Four Seasons Centre for the Performing Arts.

6. Join local residents at Nathan Phillips Square in front of City Hall for the Cavalcade of Lights (toronto.ca), the lighting of Toronto’s official Christmas tree, accompanied by a dance party, live music and fireworks.

7. Celebrate Ontario’s agricultural heritage at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair (royalfair.org), which takes place every November. Top attractions include equestrian shows, Jack Russell terrier racing and a petting farm.

8. Tackle your gift list while discovering local artisans at the One of a Kind Christmas Show and Sale (oneofakindshow.com), which boasts booths from 800-plus craftspersons, artists and designers.

9. Book a table during Winterlicious (toronto.ca/winterlicious) to fill your belly for less with prix-fixe lunch and dinner steals at some of Toronto’s top restaurants.

10. Don your warmest boots and take the subway to High Park (highparktoronto.com) for a winter wonderland walk through the trees.

11. Brighten dark evenings and practise nighttime photography skills with a tour of Toronto’s most lit-up neighbourhoods, including Bloor-Yorkville, Downtown Yonge, Chinatown or Bloor West Village.

12. Admire the creativity of window-display designers at the Queen and Yonge flagship store of classic Canadian retailer Hudson’s Bay (thebay.com), where Christmas vignettes are unveiled every holiday season.

13. Get lost on purpose in the PATH (toronto.ca/path), the world’s largest underground shopping complex, with 1,200 shops and services spread across more than 28 km (17.5 miles) throughout much of the downtown core.

14. Marvel at the artists’ skills at Icefest (bloor-yorkville.com/icefest), Yorkville’s ice sculpture festival, which features ice carving demos and an on-street ice skating performance.

15. Book a detoxifying Hammam, Gommage & Rhassoul treatment at Miraj Hammam Spa (mirajcaudaliespa.com), then retreat to the lounge to sip spa water and start planning your next visit to Toronto.

The Neighbourhoods of Greater Toronto
Where the city comes alive.

Toronto’s neighbourhoods are the heart of the city. They pulse with life, and each has a personality all its own. A visit isn’t complete without exploring this matrix of culturally diverse regions that makes Toronto the vibrant, eclectic destination that it is. From century-old enclaves to the newest and most recently rejuvenated, there is always something fresh to discover just around the corner.

Bloor-Yorkville
This well-loved shopping area has grown up and flourished since its days as a hippie hangout in the 1960s. Today, Bloor-Yorkville is home to Toronto’s Mink Mile, featuring top international names like Tiffany & Co., Gucci, Cartier and Prada alongside the best of Canada at Holt Renfrew, Harry Rosen and Roots. Yorkville’s bustling streets and cobbled lanes house designer boutiques, luxury hotels, galleries and fine dining, all surrounding one of the city’s top gathering spots at Village of Yorkville Park. bloor-yorkville.com

Entertainment District
By night, this downtown hub packs in plenty of the city’s hippest restaurants, theatres, bars and nightclubs. During the day, it’s just as lively with popular attractions such as the CN Tower, Ripley’s Aquarium of Canada, and the TIFF Bell Lightbox, home to the Toronto International Film Festival. As you stroll, look beneath your feet to see the who’s who of entertainment immortalized with their own stars in the sidewalk that makes up Canada’s Walk of Fame. torontoed.com
Downtown Yonge
There's plenty of fun to be had in the Yonge and Dundas area. It's a prime spot for people watching, catching a movie, dining, and, of course, shopping at the landmark Toronto Eaton Centre, one of the most visited attractions in the city. Across the street, Yonge-Dundas Square serves as a dynamic venue for concerts, events, community celebrations and cappuccino sipping, too. On balmy days, it's a blast to watch kids run through the numerous fountains dotted throughout the square. downtownyonge.com

Kensington Market
The world comes together here. Considered among the best street markets in North America, this dense cultural labyrinth of narrow streets houses a mix of Caribbean, Latin American, European, African and Middle Eastern shops and restaurants. Peppered within are second-hand/vintage clothing stores, fishmongers, street musicians and cafés. This is the place to pick up everything from your favourite '70s bands on vinyl to exotic produce and artisan cheese. kensington-market.ca

Old Town Toronto
The city began in this neighbourhood, once home to the first parliament and ports. Nibble your way through St. Lawrence Market, rated as one of the top markets in the world, or browse through the north market on a Sunday in search of an antique treasure. The well-preserved Victorian architecture serves as a great background for vacation photos. Sit and watch the black squirrels scurrying around St. James Park once you've had your fill of shopping, theatres, galleries and restaurants in the area. oldtowntoronto.ca

Queen West
Welcome to funky town and the centre of all things cool and trendsetting. Somehow, the mix of textile stores, tattoo parlours, chic boutiques, loft spaces, vintage stores and bars is a harmonious one, creating a real neighbourhood where people actually live and play. A new crop of chic watering holes, spas and indie fashion outlets stocking mostly Canadian designers is the latest addition to this wildly eclectic downtown hub. westqueenwest.ca; queenstwestbia.ca

The Waterfront
In a city perched on Lake Ontario, it’s not surprising that so much happens along the water’s edge. There are festivals aplenty (celebrating everything from local authors to spicy food) at Harbourfront Centre, and a thriving art scene thanks to contemporary art venues such as The Power Plant. Catch a ferry to the nearby Toronto Islands, or stick to the mainland, where you can relax at HTO Park or the Toronto Music Garden (designed by Yo-Yo Ma), or dip your toes in the sand at Sugar Beach (complete with lounge chairs and pink umbrellas). waterfrontbia.com
Chinatown at Spadina and Dundas
The crowds come to this bustling area for its authentic Asian spirit found at the eateries, malls, markets and street vendors. Souvenir shopping is an adventure here, with imported goods from China, Japan, Thailand, Vietnam and beyond. Take a place in one of the traditional Asian restaurants dishing out plates of fine (and budget friendly) food. Find the flavours of Szechwan, Hunan, Mandarin, Cantonese and Vietnamese cuisines here, from bubble tea to pho (soup). chinatownbia.com

Liberty Village
Once dot-com central, Liberty Village has parlayed its tech cred into a growing residential community, with former factories from the industrial era being turned into trendy lofts. The revitalized Liberty Market Building is quickly becoming a local landmark, home to a growing mix of hangouts. An emerging art scene and modern eateries make this an area that’s equally welcoming to visitors and local residents. lvbia.com

Church-Wellesley/The Gay Village
Within the downtown core, this neighbourhood is the gathering place for the city’s LGBTTIQQ2SA community (Canada’s largest), but everyone is always welcome to visit its lively offerings of restaurants, shops, coffee hangouts and clubs. Every summer, it’s also action central with the arrival of Pride Week, a popular city-wide event that is capped by the highly attended Pride Parade. churchwellesleyvillage.ca
The Danforth/GreekTown
A walk along Danforth Avenue reveals Toronto’s rich Greek heritage, with traditional Greek grocers and restaurants. These mix seamlessly with trendy nightclubs and cafés that stay open late into the night. Street-front patios provide a perfect window onto the bustling scene. Linger longer and stay for dinner, too, so you can sample grilled souvlaki, saganaki (flaming cheese) and honey-soaked baklava. thedanforth.ca

Little Italy
Italian heritage runs deep, with family-owned-and-operated restaurants, gelaterias, bakeries and grocers lining the streets of this lively neighbourhood that is home to a cultural mix of residents. But everyone loves this area of the city. The food attracts many — authentic dishes taste like they were made by the Italian grandmother you always wish you had. A lively range of nightspots completes the picture. littleitalycollegest.com

Corso Italia
Centred around St. Clair and Dufferin, this neighbourhood also shows off its Italian roots with stores that feature the best of Italian fashion, produce and restaurants. The best espresso this side of Rome and cannolis worth blowing any diet for make this a must-visit area. La dolce vita reaches a crescendo during the Corso Italia Festival each summer, when “eat, drink and be merry” is the prevailing theme. torontocorsoitalia.com

The Annex & Mirvish Village
Surrounding the University of Toronto, bohemia rules in this student-populated and ethnically diverse neighbourhood. The landmark Honest Ed’s bargain department store at the corner of Bathurst and Bloor sets the tone, while budget-friendly restaurants, bookstores, quaint cafés and iconic bars keep this spot casual and full of a youthful spirit that is entertaining no matter what your age. bloorannexbia.com; mirvishvillagebia.com

The Beaches
Enjoy the relaxed pace and eclectic bohemian feel found among the bakeries, candy stores and quirky shops that line Queen Street East. Head toward the lake and pass lovingly tended cottage-style homes before roaming along the boardwalk, which gives visitors unencumbered views of Lake Ontario. Local sunbathers and swimmers gather here to celebrate summer in the city. beachbia.com
Financial District/South Core/PATH/The Underground City

Look up, look way up, to view the monolithic skyscrapers of glass and steel that rule this neighbourhood. South Core, south of the Financial District, is a growing area with multiple condo and office towers being built. Beneath, an underground city awaits with 28 km (17.5 miles) of interconnecting passageways known as the PATH (the world’s most extensive underground network). It links 50 office towers, more than 1,200 stores, many of the city’s top restaurants, hotels and visitor attractions, and five subway stations, including Union Station train and bus terminal. torontofinancialdistrict.com

Bloor West Village & High Park

Here in the city’s greenest neighbourhood, you can delight in Eastern European pastries, coffee and culture. Expansive High Park attracts runners, walkers and people watchers. Take your time and explore its manicured gardens, zoo, swimming pool, restaurants and vegetable gardens—a welcome oasis of calm. Check for events such as Shakespeare in High Park, an annual summer tradition. bloorwestvillagebia.com

Cabbagetown

A recent revamp has turned this former working-class neighbourhood (one of the city’s oldest and most established) into a true gathering place, thanks to a plethora of galleries, cafés and cozy restaurants. In the heart of Cabbagetown lies Riverdale Farm, complete with chickens, ducks, goats, cows and pigs—the perfect site for vacationing families who like a bit of country charm thrown in with the urban hum. oldcabbagetown.com

Gerrard India Bazaar

Home to the largest South Asian marketplace in North America, Gerrard India Bazaar (Little India) is where Toronto’s Indian, Pakistani, Sri Lankan and Bangladeshi communities congregate. Browse for unique souvenirs among the traditional Indian greengrocers and sari and gift shops. When your shopping bags are filled, relax over wickedly good Indian cuisine that uses authentic flavours and cooking techniques. gerrardindiabazaar.com
Vibrant, lively, historic, green—find it all in the cities and neighbourhoods beyond central Toronto. Name your experience, and you can have it here: visit award-winning wineries, hit the links at an outstanding course, stroll through quaint cobblestone streets or browse chic shops and antique stores.

Woodbine & Airport Area
Standard arrivals and departures? Hardly. In this eclectic area, you can stay in a luxe hotel, sample innovative cuisine in sophisticated restaurants, or shop at Woodbine Shopping Centre, where little ones flock to an indoor Fantasy Fair featuring pint-sized rides. Adults can cheer on their favourite horses from the stands or clubhouse at Woodbine Racetrack. The venue attracts some of the top racehorses in North America. seeTorontoNow.com

Albion Islington Square
This vibrant shopping district is a destination for shoppers looking for a bit of sparkle. It has Toronto’s highest concentration of jewellers specializing in gold and diamond designer jewellery. albionislingtonsquare.com

Brampton
Brampton earned its “Flower City” moniker with its ever-blossoming flower festivals, award-winning flowerbeds and gorgeous floral displays. Nature also rules at the city’s Gage Park, which opened in 1903 and now has myriad trails, whether for running or in-line skating, as well as a temperature-controlled skating trail set among the pines. The Rose Theatre, located in the heart of historic downtown, is home to top-tier theatre, musicals and symphony performances. Brampton’s diverse ethnic population, which boasts a strong South Asian community, means that restaurants offering authentic cuisine are abundant and well worth visiting. brampton.ca

Mississauga City Centre
In Mississauga, Canada’s sixth most populous city, cultural adventures await. The recently renovated Celebration Square is its cultural hub, home to more than 100 free public events, festivals and performances every year. You can also skate on the Square’s ice rink, visit the state-of-the-art amphitheatre and meander through an array of lovely gardens. Or head to Square One, one of Canada’s largest shopping malls; the popular Living Arts Centre for a wide range of performing arts; or the lively Playdium for all-ages fun. mississauga.ca
Streetsville
Lively and rich in history, Mississauga’s scenic “Village in the City” sits on the banks of the Credit River. Here, you can enjoy modern comforts—shopping, spa treatments, relaxing with a latte at an inviting café—while admiring the largest concentration of historic buildings in Mississauga. An evening walking tour, conducted by candlelight, reveals the stories behind the charming façades and how the town has evolved, beginning with five mills established in its early days. The annual Bread & Honey Festival pays homage to those roots. villageofstreetsville.com

Port Credit
Known as Mississauga’s “village on the lake,” Port Credit is situated at the mouth of the Credit River along the shores of Lake Ontario—making it one of the most picturesque areas in the province. It recently celebrated its 175th birthday. Its beginnings as a harbour town (receiving mainly grain and lumber) are still very much part of the present. Hikes along the 15 km (9 mile) section of the Waterfront Trail show off the natural beauty of the area. Outdoorsy types can go fishing now that the salmon stock is flourishing in the Credit River. Meanwhile, explore the farmers’ market (Saturdays from June to October) or browse through boutiques well stocked with jewellery, crafts and fashions from local artisans. portcredit.com

Niagara Region
While the Falls themselves are spectacular enough to warrant a visit, the Niagara region offers a dynamic year-round visitor experience. The best views come at the base of the Falls, aboard Hornblower Niagara Cruises. Museums with big names such as Ripley’s and Louis Tussaud (Madame’s great-grandson) are always a big hit with the kids. A must-do? Explore the award-winning wineries, many of which offer inexpensive tastings and on-site restaurants dedicated to creating dishes that bring out the best flavours in the wine. tourismniagara.com

How to get around town.

AIRPORT 411
Toronto Pearson International Airport (code YYZ) is the main point of landing for most domestic and international flights. Toronto Pearson is 27 km (17 miles) west of the city and about a half-hour drive from downtown. To get from the airport to downtown, you can:
1. Hire a taxi or airport limo: Look for the lineup signs for limos. The average cost into the city is about $50.
2. Catch a shuttle bus: Many hotels offer airport shuttles, so check whether yours does.
3. Ride the Airport Express, a luxury bus service connecting Toronto Pearson to downtown Toronto. Each bus boasts leather seats and Wi-Fi capability, with service to nine downtown hotels as well as the University of Toronto campus, for $27.95 one way or $42 round trip. Visit torontoairportexpress.com.
4. Rent a car: You’ll find major car rental outfits at both Terminal 1 and Terminal 3, open daily from 6 a.m. to 1 a.m.
   - Alamo, 1-800-GO-ALAMO
   - Avis, 1-800-TRY-AVIS
   - Budget, 1-800-268-8900
   - Hertz, 1-800-263-0600
   - National, 1-800-CAR-RENT
   - Thrifty, 1-800-THRIFTY
Find detailed directions to the city at torontopearson.com.
5. Take public transit: You’ll save money if you take the Toronto Transit Commission (TTC). Catch the 192 Airport Rocket bus to Kipling subway station or the 58A Malton bus to Lawrence West subway station. Both stations are on subway lines servicing the downtown core. Visit ttc.ca.

Billy Bishop Toronto City Airport (code YTZ), located on the Toronto Islands, services domestic, chartered and select U.S. flights. Billy Bishop is a short ferry ride from Toronto’s Harbourfront district, then mere minutes from downtown’s taxis and public transit. A ferry-replacing tunnel is being built in 2014 and will make the connection even faster.

TRAVELLING BY BUS
Toronto Coach Terminal is the main inter-city bus depot, located downtown at 610 Bay St. GO Transit buses service inter-region travel in and around the Greater Toronto Area. The GO Transit bus hub is located at 140 Bay St. (at Front Street, just east of Union Subway Station). Call 416-869-3200 for more information or visit gotransit.com.

TRAVELLING BY TRAIN
All trains arrive and depart from Union Station (65 Front St. W.). VIA Rail handles most of Canada’s inter-city routes and connects to the U.S. via

IMPORTANT FYIs
- The legal drinking age is 19. Licensed establishments serve alcohol between 11 a.m. and 2 a.m.
- To get married in Ontario, consenting partners age 18 and older must first obtain a marriage license. If you submit the application (available online) with two pieces of valid ID, along with the $140 fee, the license can generally be processed within a day, after which it’s valid for 90 days. Same-sex marriage has been legal here since 2003. Find more info (plus the application form) at settlement.org.
- General retail hours are 10 a.m. to 9 p.m., with some malls offering extended hours and some smaller boutiques closing earlier. Most shops and malls close earlier on Sundays.
Amtrak. The Amtrak/VIA Maple Leaf route runs between New York City and Toronto daily and takes around 12 hours, depending on the border wait. For more information: 1-888-VIA-RAIL and viarail.ca; 1-800-USA-RAIL and amtrak.com.

GO Transit trains service inter-region travel in and around the Greater Toronto Area. The green-and-white trains operate from Union Station. Call 416-869-3200 for more information or visit gotransit.com. For general station information, call the Travellers’ Aid Society of Toronto at 416-366-7788.

EXPLORING THE CITY

› By Toronto Transit Commission (TTC): With four lines and 69 stops, Toronto’s subway system is easy to navigate. Maps are displayed on all subway cars and are available at station ticket booths. Subway stops connect to streetcar or bus routes that weave throughout the city and extend to the GTA (hold on to your paper transfer for free connections). Single fare is $3 for adults, $2 for students/seniors and 75 cents for children; keep in mind that drivers don’t provide change. You can save money by buying multiple tokens or tickets or a one-day or one-week transit pass. Single-day passes cost $10.75 and allow unlimited rides from the start of service until 5:30 the following morning. On weekends and statutory holidays, the $10.75 day pass provides unlimited travel for a group of up to six people with a maximum of two adults. Weekly passes, valid from Monday to Sunday, cost $38.50 for adults and $30.50 for students/seniors. Visit ttc.ca or call 416-393-INFO for more information.

› By GO Transit: For routes out of Toronto into neighbouring suburbs, check GO Transit bus and train schedules at gotransit.com.

› By regional transit: Visiting Mississauga? Go to the Click n’ Ride route planner on mississauga.ca, type in your origin and destination, and the website will map out your best route. For route information in Brampton, visit Brampton Transit at brampton.ca.

› By taxi: Toronto has numerous cab companies, and all charge the same base rate of $4.25, plus $1.75 per kilometer ($1.05 per mile) or 53 cents a minute. The easiest cab number to remember is 416-TAXICAB, which connects you to all taxi and airport-limo companies.

› By bike: Renting a bike is easy. Keep an eye peeled for automated bike stands throughout the city. Bike rentals are ideal for shorter rides and are a great alternative to taxi jaunts. Grab a bike at one stand, then return it to another. Visit toronto.ca for a Toronto cycling map.

› By foot: Toronto is a safe and walkable city. Look for trails throughout the parks, gardens and beaches; routes are outlined at toronto.ca. Explore the PATH, an easy-to-navigate system of underground walkways and shopping arcades that runs beneath the downtown core. The 28 km (17.5 mile) PATH connects five subway stations, six major hotels and several attractions, including Union Station, Roy Thomson Hall, The Air Canada Centre, CN Tower, Toronto Eaton Centre and City Hall. Maps are available at toronto.ca.
